

Michael Lawrence, Class of 1995, earned a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Psychology from Westminster College in 1999, both a Masters of Education Degree in Counseling Psychology in 2002 and a Doctorate in Counseling Psychology in 2004 from the University of Oklahoma. He is currently a board certified clinical neuropsychologist who operates as the section chief and director of training in clinical neuropsychology at the Spectrum Health Medical Group.

Dr. Lawrence specializes in conducting neuropsychological evaluations and providing psychotherapy in neurologically compromised individuals. Areas of particular expertise and interest include epilepsy, dementia and concussion management. In addition, Dr. Lawrence is an adjunct professor in Psychology at Cornerstone University where he teaches both intro to Psychology and Abnormal Psychology courses.

Dr. Lawrence is considered a concussion expert for minor league sports teams including the Grand Rapids Griffins and West Michigan White Caps. He works with multiple high schools and organizations throughout the community and is the co-director of a multi-disciplinary sports concussion clinic.

Dr. Lawrence is a member of the International Neuropsychological Society, American Academy of Clinical Neuropsychology and the Association of Psychology Postdoctoral and Internships Centers.

Michael Lives in Rockford, Michigan with his wife, Paula and his two children Josie and Ryann.